RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Research Data Analyst

UCSF Dyslexia Center, Department of Neurology
San Francisco, CA

2022-Present

- Create machine learning pipelines and Python modules to predict neurodevelopmental diagnoses and cognitive profiles from MRI and multidisciplinary behavioral evaluations
- Harmonize and process multimodal MRI data (structural, diffusion, functional) for 500+ research subjects using BIDS pipelines and custom-built post-processing scripts
- Implement custom diffusion tractography, integrate neuropsychological and neuroimaging measures, and perform analyses for lab projects and grant applications
- Automate lab workflows via Python scripting, including database-wide interactive visualization platforms, subject-level diffusion MRI presentations, REDCap API-powered database visualizations

- Co-lead UCSF Memory and Aging Center Artificial Intelligence Office Hours to teach staff, postdocs, and faculty how to implement AI tools in their research

Research Assistant

Forschungszentrum Jülich, Institute of Neuroscience and Medicine

Jülich, Germany

2019

- Conducted correlation analyses between resting-state fMRI network measures and psychological metrics (resilience and personality traits) for manuscript published in Nature Scientific Reports (Altinok et al., 2021)
- Fine-tuned and implemented custom EEG artifact removal pipeline in MATLAB, improving data quality of auditory mismatch negativity study comparing healthy and schizophrenic populations
- Assisted with EEG setup for trimodal brain imaging data collection (MR-PET-EEG)
- Provided editing and grammar review for 3 scientific manuscripts prepared by international research team

Research Assistant

Computational Vision and Learning Lab, UCLA Department of Psychology

Los Angeles, CA

2018-2019

- Applied deep convolutional neural networks (AlexNet, VGG, ResNet, DenseNet) using Python's Keras and TensorFlow for research investigating computational models of human vision, contributing to lab research published in PLOS Computational Biology
- Administered and conducted preliminary analysis of MATLAB experimental tasks studying temporal boundaries in human memory, supporting research published in the Journal of Vision
